ABOUT MISSION SAN LUIS ~ Mission San Luis functioned as the capital of the western missions in La Florida from 1656 to 1704. Populated by more than 1500 residents, including one of the most powerful Apalachee chiefs and the Spanish deputy governor, San Luis was one of early Florida's largest colonial outposts. In recognition of its historical significance, San Luis received designation as a National Historic Landmark in 1960. Since that time, the Mission has been the focus of intensive archaeological and historical research, and today is the most thoroughly-investigated mission in the southeastern United States.

Each year, the 17th century comes alive for thousands of visitors with costumed living history interpreters, hands-on exhibits, and continuing archaeological excavations. Join us in exploring native culture and Spanish colonization in a meticulously recreated landscape. Your membership will help us continue the outstanding education programs and research projects at the site. ▲
